1. Introduction

The UK Corporate Governance Code and the EU Whistleblowing Directive 2019 require companies to ensure that procedures are in place for the effective operation of arrangements to enable the workforce to raise concerns in confidence, anonymously if they wish, and for the proportionate and independent investigation of such matters.

2. Policy Purpose

Good governance requires that reporting mechanisms are well understood and trusted by our people. In addition to our internal channels, we provide independent services to enable the reporting, investigation and remedying of any wrongdoing in the workplace. Any suspected wrongdoing should be reported as soon as possible. This policy explains what should be reported, how to make a report and our commitment to treating cases confidentially and protecting whistleblowers.

3. Policy Scope

This Policy applies throughout the Group to all employees, customer representatives, contractors or other third parties working for or on behalf of our organisation, suppliers, customers, communities and other business relationships. Anybody can report an issue using our whistleblowing services. This policy will be translated into local language and communicated to employees, customer representatives, contractors and suppliers in all countries in which we do business and will be publicly displayed on our website.

4. Definitions

The following definitions are used in this policy:

Executive Whistleblowing Committee	Chief Executive Officer, Chief Financial Officer, Chief Legal Officer and Chief HR Officer.
Group	International Personal Finance plc and all companies in which it directly or indirectly owns or controls the voting rights attaching to not less than 50% of the issued share capital or controls the appointment of the majority of the board of management.
Group Whistleblowing Committee	Group Senior Legal Manager and Group Fraud Risk and AML Manager.
Whistleblowing Market Leads	Subject matter experts appointed for each of our businesses.

5. Policy Requirements

5.1 How to raise a concern

You are requested to report colleagues, managers, directors, agents, representatives, contractors, suppliers or any other person working with or on behalf of our organisation if you believe that they are in some way involved in any activity which is illegal or dishonest. Examples of the types of information which should be disclosed are below but if in doubt please raise your concern and it will be appropriately and discretely assessed:

- Criminal activity or failure to comply with a legal obligation;
- Financial malpractice, impropriety or fraud;
- Danger to public health or damage to the environment;
- Bribery or tax evasion;
- Sexual harassment or physical violence;
- Drugs or alcohol in the workplace; and
- Improper conduct or unethical behaviour.

We hope that in most cases you will be able to raise any concerns that you might have with your line manager, HR team, local management team or other appropriate channel for raising issues depending on what it relates to. However, where you prefer not to for whatever reason, or if a concern you have raised is not resolved to your satisfaction, please use our independent whistleblowing services. The services are hosted by third party providers and are available 24/7 in local languages. Details on how to access the services are set out below and details of any local hotlines or email addresses are contained in local policies and communications.

To raise a concern through our independent whistleblowing channels go to <https://report.whistleb.com/en/ipf> for European, IPF Digital or Group related matters or <https://hacerlocorrecto.ethicsglobal.com/> for Mexico.

5.2 Investigation of your report

You will receive an acknowledgement of your report within 7 days and further feedback as soon as possible but at least within 3 months of receipt of your report. Your report will be reviewed by the Group Whistleblowing Committee and will be investigated by appropriate independent individuals. Significant matters will be escalated to the Executive Whistleblowing Committee. If any individuals involved in those committees are referenced in the report they will not be party to any investigations. If any individuals on the Executive Whistleblowing Committee are referenced in a report it will be escalated to the Chair of the Audit and Risk Committee.

5.3 Confidentiality and protection for those speaking up

All concerns will be handled confidentially and discretely. The independent reporting and investigation services allow you to raise issues anonymously if you wish and still enable you to receive updates on the progress and conclusion of any investigation. We do, however, encourage you to provide your name and details to better conduct investigations with more information. Your identity will be kept as confidential as possible.

People speaking up will not suffer any detrimental treatment or retaliation as a result of raising a sincere concern. We encourage openness and support for anyone raising honest concerns under this whistleblowing policy, even if they turn out to be mistaken. False allegations made intentionally and maliciously, however, may be subject to appropriate disciplinary action.

5.4 External disclosures

In some circumstances it may be appropriate for you to report your concerns to an external body such as a regulator. We strongly encourage you to seek advice before reporting a concern to anyone external. Advice can be sought from “Protect” in the UK who offer a confidential helpline. To contact “Protect” go to <https://protect-advice.org.uk/>

6. Roles and Responsibilities

Group Whistleblowing Committee	Ensuring oversight and effective operation of our whistleblowing services across the Group, proportionate and independent investigation of cases, escalation of significant matters and reporting to the Executive Whistleblowing Committee and Audit and Risk Committee.
