Thank You!

In building a better world through financial inclusion, it is essential that we proactively work with the communities we and our customers live in and that we support good causes. The IPF Volunteering Month is designed to highlight that commitment of ours and I am extremely thankful and proud of your contribution through the month, as well as through every day of the year.

This year we thought it was important to mobilise our leadership teams to participate in a sports challenge and I extend my thanks to all teams participating and achieving great results and importantly, having created a lot of visibility to the programme.

I look forward to successfully continuing our journey with all of you,

Gergely Mikola, Group Director of Corporate Affairs

Leeds team included leaders representing various functions based in our UK hub and it was great to see IPF's new Chief Financial Officer, Gary Thompson, join the team and contribute to the good cause on the challenge day.

I am very proud of the success of the Provident Poland leadership team in the IPF Sports Challenge though I am aware, that all participating teams made a lot of effort to contribute on the day. It gives me great pleasure to announce that, as part of building a better world through financial inclusion, we have decided to donate the grant of 5,000 GBP to support our Group charity project, i.e. the Mother's Shelter for refugees from Ukraine in Warsaw.

Thank you very much.
